First World Forum Intermediary Cities by UCLG
As the majority of future urban development will take place in intermediary cities, many of them located within metropolitan spaces, Metropolis joins the conversation on how the I-Cities should enter the dynamic of implementation of the global agendas with their own voice, their specific perspective, and their specific needs.

08-12 Singapore

World Cities Summit
With the theme “Liveable and sustainable cities: Embracing the future through innovation and collaboration” and jointly organized by our partner Centre for Liveable Cities, this summit is a unique opportunity to work together in solving the current and future problems of major cities.

10-12 Madrid - Barcelona - Valencia

Asia Innova 2018
Asia Innova is the main Casa Asia program dedicated to innovation and technological cooperation with Asia. This initiative brings together a select group of representatives from the most dynamic cities in Asia, as well as the most outstanding associations of cities, with representatives from the public and the private sector and Spanish research centers, with the aim of identifying opportunities for city-to-city cooperation in areas that include urban innovation, infrastructure management, sustainable urban mobility, urban finance governance, housing and economic development. As knowledge partner, Metropolis is facilitating the participation of experts from our Asian membership, fostering encounter with relevant stakeholders from the public, private and academic sector.
Local and regional governments forum at the HLPF

The yearly High-Level Political Forum (HLPF), the United Nation’s main platform to follow-up and review the 2030 Agenda, will count in 2018, for the first time, with a special event that acknowledges the role that local and regional governments play in the implementation of the Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs). The members of the Global Taskforce are gathering at the UN Headquarters to share their leadership in the localization of the SDGs 6, 7, 11, 12, 15 and 17.

2018 Metropolis Annual Meeting

Under the theme “Inclusive Metropolitan Cities and City-Regions”, our 2018 Annual Meeting is hosted by Gauteng Province and will take place in Johannesburg. The agenda is intended to ensure that key issues of inclusivity are placed on the global agenda of metropolitan areas.

The thematic sessions will focus on key issues for sustainable urbanisation such as migration, anti-racism, social cohesion, gender equality, youth employment, growth of urban poverty, empowerment of girl children and informalisation. Several prominent international speakers will be in attendance. In addition to our statutory meetings and the delegates programme, progress on several Metropolis initiatives and the training programme of the association will also be presented.

Additionally, political decision-makers of the metropolises from across the continent will convene the second Forum of African metropolises co-organized by UCLGA and Metropolis, to enrich the debates concerning the major global issues and to address the role of African cities in global organisations as a contribution towards Africities.

Cities are also invited to showcase examples of inclusive city programmes and practices that have helped to advance their development in an exhibition at the event.

Don’t miss this opportunity to meet cities seeking to work together to action an inclusive city agenda. Registration and all the information related to the event are already available at the event’s website metropolis.org/gauteng2018
